

NINE SOLDIERS DROWNED TODAY

Members of Twenty-Fourth Colored Infantry.

PARTY WAS RETURNING FROM A RECONNOISSANCE.

Accident Occurs While Coming Down the San Mateo River On a Raft—War Department Issues Orders Directing the Twenty-Sixth Volunteers to Proceed to the Philippines—Secretary Root Will Have a Second Conference With President McKinley On the War Situation—Gen. Merritt Will Be a Party to the Discussion.

Manila, Aug. 21.—[Special]—Nine members of the Twenty-Fourth (colored) Infantry were drowned today while coming down the San Mateo river on a raft.

The raft broke. The soldiers were returning from a reconnoissance.

Washington, Aug. 21.—[Special]—An order was issued by the war department this morning directing the Twenty-Sixth volunteers to proceed to San Francisco for the Philippines.

Washington, Aug. 21.—[Special]—Secretary Root leaves this afternoon for Plattsburg, N. Y., where he will have a second conference with President McKinley on the Philippine situation.

Gen. Merritt will be a party to the discussion, it is said.

Manila, Aug. 21.—Advices from Negros have been received to the effect that Lieut. Cole, with eighty men, encountered 100 native outlaws occupying an entrenched position in the mountains.

Notwithstanding the advantage on the side of the bandits, both in numbers and position, the Americans attacked, and the fight lasted two hours.

Nineteen of the bandits were killed. The Americans had three wounded.

Since the occupation of the town of Angeles by the Americans a number of rebels have been frequently seen skulking in the neighborhood.

Sunday two companies of the Twelfth infantry were dispatched to drive the rebels off, and they succeeded in doing so after several small skirmishes.

One American officer was killed and one wounded. The enemy retreated to the mountains.

Reports from Gen. Otis.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Brief reference to a battle with the insurgents on Friday in the neighborhood of Angeles is made in a dispatch from Gen. Otis to the war department. Another dispatch reports the defeat of a band of outlaws in Negros island.

First Lieut. Alfred W. Draw of the Twelfth infantry, killed in the vicinity of Angeles, was born in Texas, and was graduated from the West Point Military academy in 1891. He was assigned as second lieutenant to the Twelfth United States infantry. During the war with Spain he was major of the Third Texas volunteer infantry.

Otis Remains in Command.

Washington, Aug. 21.—There is no thought of sending either Gen. Miles or Gen. Merritt to the Philippines. A Chicago paper states positively that Gen. Miles will go to the Philippines in October. A New York paper states with equal positiveness that Gen. Merritt is to be sent to the Philippines.

Secretary Root has become tired of having this question presented to him, and Sunday said that he is not considering any plan for a change of commanders in the Philippines; that he knows of no one else who is, and that he will refuse further to discuss the question.

It is said at the war department that Gen. Otis' plan to divide the Philippines into military districts, placing Lawton, MacArthur, Wheaton and Bates in command of separate divisions, meets with the entire approbation of the president and secretary of war.

Gen. Otis has already begun the operations under this new plan by placing Lawton in command of the first division and MacArthur in command of the second division of the army in Luzon.

Dewey's Faith in Filipinos.

London, Aug. 21.—The Naples correspondent of the Daily News telegraphs the substance of an interview he had with Admiral Dewey there during the admiral's recent visit.

Admiral Dewey said he believed the Philippine question would shortly be solved. In his judgment the inhabitants were capable of self-government, and the only way to settle the insurrection and to insure prosperity was to concede it to them. He declared that he was never in favor of violence toward the Filipinos, and remarked that after autonomy had been conceded, annexation might be talked of.

When asked whether a conflict between Germany and the United States over the Philippines were possible, Admiral Dewey replied, according to the correspondent: "It is impossible to foresee the unforeseeable."

Recruiting May Begin Today.

Washington, Aug. 21.—The work of recruiting for the ten additional volunteer regiments recently authorized by the president will in all probability begin today. All of the field officers for these regiments and a number of the company officers have already been appointed and have been ordered to proceed to the headquarters of their regiments for duty. The captains and lieutenants will be assigned to duty at the various recruiting stations and will take an active part in the work of organizing their regiments. The remainder of the company officers will be appointed within the next two or three days.

Troops Ordered to Move at Once.

Plattsburg, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Orders have been received at Plattsburg barracks for the Twenty-sixth regiment to prepare to leave for Manila within a week.

Fort Thomas, Ky., Aug. 21.—Orders have been received by the Thirty-first United States infantry to be in readiness to move at a moment's notice.

Big Fires in St. Petersburg.

Moscow, Aug. 21.—Two disastrous fires broke out in St. Petersburg Sunday. In the first the military apothecary headquarters and sanitary warehouses were destroyed, involving a loss of millions of rubles. The fire started in the spontaneous combustion of hygroscopic wadding.

Gronoff's timber wharf and lumber yards, the largest in Russia, caught fire and are still burning. The loss in this case will run into the millions of rubles.

IMPROVEMENT AT THE COTTON MILLS

A NEW ENGINE WILL SOON BE OPERATED.

Intended For Operation When the Waterpower Is Insufficient—Two Local Mills Have a Capacity of 20,000 Yards a Day—Both Industries are Busy.

The Janesville Cotton Mills have purchased for use at their lower mills, a new engine which they intend to operate when the water power is insufficient for running the machinery.

This new piece of mechanical equipment is a Reynolds, Corliss compound condensing engine of 250 horse power.

George G. Sutherland, president of the Janesville Cotton Mills, when interviewed by a Gazette reporter today said:

"We bought this engine because at times the water power is too slack to run the full amount of machinery. With this engine to back us up, we are equipped to run the full number of looms any time that we are called upon to do so."

"We have an engine at the upper mill which has a pressure of 150 horse power, but at present the water pressure suffices."

"The two mills have a capacity of 20,000 yards a day, of which the lower can turn out about 15,000. That is the reason we put an engine there of considerable more power than the one in the upper factory."

"Both the mills are running now by water power, and we shall probably not be called upon to use the new engine as long as the present prices for our product continue."

"Cotton cloth," said Mr. Sutherland, "is not what it was in 1893. At that time it brought 5 cents a yard. It dropped considerably then and for two years has been slow, bringing only an average of 3 1/2 cents a yard."

The boilers for the new engine have already arrived at Janesville, and Mr. Sutherland says that he looks for the engine any day. Work has begun on the boiler and engine house and an eighty-foot brick chimney will also be erected to carry off the fumes that the new piece of puffing machinery will necessitate.

The average was but six bushels an acre for the entire state, or a little over 18,000,000 bushels, valued at about $10,000,000 at present market prices. This is the shortest crop in years.

GUNBOAT PRINCETON NOW AT TAKU, CHINA

MINISTER CONGER TO TAKE A TOUR ALONG COAST.

To Make An Investigation of the American Interests At the More Important Points—Will Submit Report of Affairs—To Protect Our Trade In the Kingdom.

United States Minister Conger will go aboard the Princeton for a tour along the Chinese coast.

Conger will make a thorough investigation of the American interests at the more important points, and the report he will submit to the state department is expected to throw new light on the condition of affairs in the kingdom.

Conger's trip is in line with the policy of the state department, to see that the struggle among the European governments for territory and spheres of influence shall not operate to a disadvantage to the American trade.

ALBERT LEE'S GENEROSITY

Has an Abundance of Apples and Shares with the Children.

Albert Lee of Linn street, has an eccentricity which the youthful folks along that street are proud of.

In Mr. Lee's back yard is a crabapple tree which every morning and afternoon sheds, of its own free will, a great portion of its tempting fruit.

Now, Mr. Lee is very fond of fishing. Nearly every evening he may be seen tramping down Linn street towards Monterey bridge, with his pole and a basket on his arm. When Mr. Lee reaches the river, the basket is empty, but when he leaves his house, it is full and full of crabapples.

Now this is nearly all there is to the story, except that Mr. Lee modestly explains that the fruit would only spoil if left on the ground, and that the children might as well have it. He says that his wife has put up all the crab apple jelly and crab-apple preserves that she wants and so when he goes down to pursue the much loved tactics of Isaac Walton, he fills his fish basket with apples and distributes them to the children on the way.

They all know when to expect Mr. Lee and his basket, and wait at their respective stations to fill their aprons, or their pockets, as the case may be, from the benefactor's bounty.

RUSSELL HARRISON MAY DIE

Former President's Son Is Stricken with Yellow Fever.

Santiago, Cuba, Aug. 21.—The doctors have decided that Major Russell B. Harrison, son of ex-President Harrison, has a severe attack of yellow fever. He has been sick at Cristo for three days, but his illness, until Saturday, was believed to be malaria. His condition is critical. There are no other cases.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 21.—Russell B. Harrison, son of former President Benjamin Harrison, was one of the first men of prominence in this state to offer their services to the government when the war with Spain was seen to be inevitable, and he was at first assigned a position as paymaster. Since the surrender of Santiago he has been in charge of the place as provost marshal. To friends to whom he has written since he went to Cuba Major Harrison has spoken in the highest terms of the country, and the impression has been created that he intended making his home there.

Outside of the press dispatches there has been no notification of his illness from yellow fever, but when the report became current it created a great deal of comment, and inquiries were sent to Washington asking for the latest information regarding his condition. None of the members of his immediate family is now in the city, and no private advices have been received here from Cuba.

THE STATE FACTORY INSPECTORS BUSY

LOOKING AFTER VIOLATORS OF LAW AT SHEBOYGAN.

Lightning Strikes A. G. Coon of Eau Claire, During a Storm—Hard Fight For a New Trial In Hempton Murder Case—The State News.

Sheboygan, Wis., Aug. 21.—J. J. Williams of Milwaukee, state factory inspector, is in the city, following up sharply a number of cases in which the state law regarding the employment of persons under 14 years of age in factories is being violated. Two cases were continued until next Tuesday. All the cases so far investigated are against parents who have given the ages of their children in wrongfully in order that they may be enabled to work. No employers have been found disregarding the law. In one instance a certificate has been found which shows the child, a girl, to be under the age at which she is permitted to work in a factory. The mother's explanation of the certificate is that it enabled her to get a cheaper passage for the girl from the old country. Inspector Williams says it is intended to prosecute all cases with the utmost rigor of the law. The inspector has ordered twenty-five fire escapes placed on buildings in the city. He says that in all cases the owners have readily agreed to meet the requirements of the law.

Ripon, Wis., Aug. 21.—Ripon's main business thoroughfare is to be paved the coming fall with the best quality of vitrified brick. This action has been taken by the council and results from a widely circulated and largely signed petition presented about six weeks ago, which sent a specially appointed pavement committee post haste on a tour of inspection and investigation to other Wisconsin cities. Moreover, the action is the culmination of years of earnest agitation on the one hand and constant dissent on the other. The pavement will cover three blocks in length in addition to the entire street-way known as Public square.

Further than this the council also has ordered that the sidewalks in this business district must be of cement and places the time limit for their construction at sixty days.

There is no disputing the wonderful improvement the pavement and cement walks will make in the appearance of Ripon city.

ST. PAUL ROAD TO BUILD NEW BRANCH

REPORTED THAT IT MAY TAP JANESVILLE.

Chicago & St. Paul and Northwestern Railway Apparently At War In An Effort to Secure Business At Summer Resort Points—Matter of Conjecture.

It looks very much as if war had been declared between the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Chicago & Northwestern railways, in an effort to secure the business derived from the summer resorts. The Milwaukee Sentinel of this morning contained the following dispatch from Lake Geneva:

"Surveyors for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway are running a line from the Libertyville extension through Solon, Ill., south of Richmond, in a west northwesterly direction as nearly straight as possible to Janesville. They will probably run a line from the same point in a northwesterly direction through this place to Milton Junction before the road is built."

The new line spoken of, it is said, strikes out from a branch of the Milwaukee division of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, and will ultimately connect the two trunk lines with many summer resorts.

As the line proposed is to be built through Walworth county, it will tap all the lakes, where the St. Paul company has the right of way. At the time the purchase was made the St. Paul's officials advanced the idea that it was for the purpose of securing an inlet to an ice house, the two roads having entered into an agreement not to infringe on one another's territory. Here is where war is declared, so it is stated.

Heretofore, the St. Paul road has been handling the business at Delavan Lake and the Northwestern at Geneva Lake, but when the officials of the St. Paul road showed their hand in the "ice house" deal, an electric trolley line from Harvard, Ill., to Lake Geneva was undertaken and a line built on a regular railway basis and the general impression was that the Northwestern people were behind the move, hence a like undertaking on the part of the St. Paul road to secure a share of the business at Lake Geneva.

The object of the St. Paul company is to unite its two branches and tap summer resorts. It is probable, though, that the line will be extended through to Madison, being simply a matter of conjecture as to points the line will tap.

Roosevelt at Plattsburg.

Plattsburg, N. Y., Aug. 21.—President McKinley and Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock drove to Plattsburg Sunday and attended services at the first Presbyterian church. Vice-President Hobart was not so well and did not leave his room. He is resting easily, however, and no alarm is felt as to his condition. Gov. Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt arrived here in the afternoon. Gov. Roosevelt called upon President McKinley. They talked over the Ohio campaign pretty thoroughly, as Gov. Roosevelt expects to start the campaign with a speech at Dayton about the middle of September.

Panama, Aug. 21.—The correspondent in Managua, Nicaragua, advises that there is no foundation for the reports of interior political troubles. Gen. Aurelio Escada and other political authorities have been removed from Bluefields, so quietness has been restored in that section of the country. Relations with Costa Rica continue friendly.

THE TESTIMONY IS UNFAVORABLE

Witnesses Strong Against Dreyfus.

MORE VIGOROUS THAN BEFORE COURT OF CASSATION.

Adjournment Taken After Solidest Anti Day Since Gen. Mercier Testified—Accused Looking Pale and Careworn and Stoops More Than Formerly—A Settled Look of Gloom As Though the Immensity of the Forces Arrayed Against Him Was Realized—Commandant Lauth, a Bitter Enemy of Picquart, On the Stand.

The second trial of Captain Alfred Dreyfus for treason, was resumed this morning.

The accused entered the court looking pale and careworn. He stoops more than formerly and never smiles. A settled look of gloom was on Dreyfus' face, as though he realizes the immensity of the forces arrayed against him.

Gen. Fabre was the first witness. He said that the handwriting in the treasonable document captured by him resembled Dreyfus' handwriting. The witness said beside the general conduct of the accused was otherwise suspicious. Fabre contradicted himself repeatedly. Dreyfus questioned him and insisted that Fabre was wrong in details.

Unimportant Testimony.

Col. Abeville testified to the same effect as Fabre. M. Cochefort, the detective who arrested Dreyfus and Gribelin, the recorder of the general staff, also gave unimportant testimony. The former said that Dreyfus exhibited great emotion when he was put through the writing test.

Dreyfus arose at the conclusion of his testimony and explained that the difference in the writing was due to the fact that he had been forced to wait in a cold room before the test was made and his fingers were cramped.

Lauth Tells of Picquart's Decey.

Commandant Lauth, a bitter enemy of Picquart, was the next to take the stand. Lauth told a story of how Picquart had sent him to see a German spy in Switzerland, who was supposedly anxious to enter the French secret service. The witness said it was a decoy mission and Picquart was seeking to entrap him.

A long discussion followed this relation as if Picquart was the real accused. Lauth denied that the petit belet had been altered or was in two handwritings. Picquart created a great sensation by announcing that in view of the insinuations against him, he would demand a court of inquiry to examine into his use of secret funds while chief of the intelligence bureau.

Capt. Junck was the next witness. He said that he once saw Dreyfus salute some immoral women. Dreyfus explained by saying that he knew the women before his marriage.

Dreyfus questioned Junck several minutes, scoring several telling points. The strongest point he made was when he said: "The day when the witness says I was beside him at the war ministry, I was at Mulhouse, at the funeral of my father."

Court then adjourned after the solidest anti-Dreyfus day since Gen. Mercier testified.

All of the witnesses were stronger against the accused than they had been before the court of cassation.

THEATRICAL SEASON WILL OPEN TONIGHT

GOOD ATTRACTION IN CARTER'S
"HEART OF CHICAGO."

Oliver Scott's Big Minstrel Carnival at Myers' Grand Friday Evening—
"Mr. Plaster of Paris," Will Appear Saturday, Enroute to Pacific Coast—
"The Musketeers."

Few more effective dramas have been sent on the road in recent years than Lincoln J. Carter's "Heart of Chicago," which appears at the Myers' Grand this evening. The story told is a powerful one of love and intrigue and of greed of gold. It is constructed on original lines, and cannot be said to approach the stereotyped form of melodrama at any time. Quite as much interest is felt, however, in the marvelous scenic aids as in the story itself. In the first act a section of the great Chicago fire is reproduced with wonderful fidelity to detail and thrilling effect. In order to render the counterfeit as complete as possible a hundred things are being done at the same time. Hordes of excited people flee from the burning district carrying their most precious belongings, plunging horsemen, flying cabmen, explosions, falling walls, flying embers, groaning wind and a hundred other matters of detail render the stage illusion perfect. Not less worthy of praise is the famous approaching engine scene, which is said by many to be the best thing in the play. It is absolutely unlike in every particular all other engine effects ever devised. Other scenes of the play are a bird's eye view of Chicago Harbor and the South Side at night—the Masonic Temple—Prof. Gardner's Theatre during a performance—a typical Chicago street scene and the World's Fair Court of Honor during a night illumination. The interpreting company is said to be very strong.

The next attraction at the Myers' Grand will be Oliver Scott's Big Minstrel Carnival, Friday evening, Aug. 25. The entertainment, truly, is entirely different from that of any similar organization. The wardrobe, stage effects, and every thing pertaining to the exhibition has been gotten up regardless of expense. It is a very big show. The street parade is a very unique feature, and will take place at 11:30 a. m. Headed by their brass band, the company will parade the principal streets of the city, after which a musical concert will be given. The seats are now on sale at the box office and are going very rapidly. That the house will be crowded goes without saying, and we predict it will be one of the most pleasing entertainments of the season. Everybody will be there.

"Mr. Plaster of Paris." One of the most notable productions of the forth coming theatrical year will be the first western presentation of the successful Parisian farce, "Mr. Plaster of Paris," which will be seen in Janesville, Saturday evening, Aug. 26, on its way to the Pacific coast.

"Mr. Plaster of Paris," is an old title and suggestive of France, and France is always associated with whatever is gay, fascinating and joyous, and so with Mr. Plaster, who by the way, is a new character to the American stage, around him has been woven a plot that affords many laughable situations and many cases of entanglement and mistaken identity.

The cast is an exceptionally good one, and the play is the kind that pleases everyone.

BAPTISTS GREET A FORMER PASTOR

DR. HODGE DELIVERS AN EX-CELLENT MORNING SERMON.

In Spite of the Warm Weather a Large Congregation Was Present to Listen to His Discourse—Subject Was "Man's Greatest Work"—Text Phil. 2-12.

In spite of the warm morning a very large congregation greeted their former pastor, Dr. Hodge, at the Baptist church yesterday. His subject was "Man's Greatest Work." The text was in Phil. 2:12.

This text, in connection with the context, is a great example of the united efforts of God and man in accomplishing a great work. We prepare our fields and sow the wheat, but God must give the increase. It is so in all things. God must work or man's labor is in vain.

The work here spoken of may be divided into three great departments of labor:

1st. We must seek to glorify God.

2d. We must seek to help others in the building up of christian character.

3d. We work out our own salvation, and he who does faithfully one of those things will be likely to do the others. Notice that in regard to this personal work we should do it faithfully and well. Do not be negligent or careless. There must be great effort. We must have a great solicitude in working out our own salvation.

We must thus be careful because it is of the utmost importance that our characters be of the right kind. We know not what is coming to us and we want to be ready for anything that may be ours to endure.

Again we should be solicitous because of the mistakes that may be made. If I take feeling for faith I have made a mistake. See that true repentance is present in the heart. Many make a mistake in taking morality for Christianity. Loyalty to the King is not simply morality. "Ye must be born again."

Again we should be diligent in working out our salvation, because we have a sleepless adversary who would rob us of eternal life. He comes in many disguises and we should ever be on guard. Again we should be diligent in this work because we must be tested in the future. Every man must give an account of his work before God.

God is not only merciful, but he is just and it will not do for us to be careless in making our peace with God through our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

May God help us to be diligent in working out our salvation.

The Best Remedy for Flux

Mr. John Mathias, a well known stock dealer of Polaski, Ky., says: "After suffering for over a year with flux, and my physician having failed to relieve me, I was advised to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and have the pleasure of stating that the half of one bottle cured me." An Enthusiastic Parson.

Rev. E. R. Hawes, who accomplished a remarkable feat on a recent Sunday by preaching in his own church in London in the morning and in Manchester Cathedral in the evening, and who is escaping to Morocco to fight bronchitis, has traveled over nearly the whole of the habitable globe, and over a good deal of it, too, which, according to civilized estimates, could scarcely be so designated. He is by education a Cantabrigia, but broke the even tenor of the theological study to take a blade with Garibaldi in the Italian liberation war of 1860. That over, he proceeded to ordination.

DRINK GRAIN-O

after you have concluded that you ought not to drink coffee. It is not a medicine, but doctors order it, because it is healthful, invigorating and appetizing. It is made from pure grain and has that rich, soft brown color and tastes like the finest grades of coffee and costs about as much. Children like it and thrive on it because it is a genuine food drink containing nothing but nourishment. Ask your grocer for Grain-O, the new food drink. 15 and 25c.

Reply Is in British Hands.

Cape Town, Aug. 21.—The Transvaal government, it is reported here, has handed its reply to the British agent at Pretoria, to be forwarded to Sir Alfred Milner. Conflicting accounts are given as to its contents, and it is possible that the report is premature and that the reply will be delayed, owing to the trouble with Portugal about the transport of ammunition consigned to the Transvaal now in Delagoa Bay.

Prince Henry Coming Here.

London, Aug. 21.—Prince Henry of Prussia, who commands the German squadron in the Pacific, will visit San Francisco, according to the Berlin correspondent of the Daily Mail, on board his flagship, after he leaves China. It is possible, according to the same authority, that he will also go to Washington to see President McKinley, who has sent him an invitation.

To Receive Returning Soldiers.

build the house around the bath room.

SO SOME PEOPLE say. The modern idea in building is to have the bath room and plumbing convenient and nice, if you are obliged to cut off on something else.

That Double System of Plumbing. we are putting in many houses, is a convenience well worth looking into. It can be placed in any house. With it you have soft water for the bath and lavatory purposes and with the turning of a valve you can run city water through the pipes. A motor elevates the soft water automatically. We would be pleased to explain it more fully to you.

GRIZZLED VETS TO MEET

Elaborate Decorations Will Mark the Thirty-third Annual Encampment of the Grand Army in Philadelphia

—BY CYRUS SYLVESTER.

Philadelphia is making elaborate preparation to welcome the veterans of the civil war on the occasion of the thirty-third encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic to be held in that city Sept. 4 to 9.

The chief feature of the decorations which the city is putting on in honor of the old veterans will be the Avenue of Fame. This avenue will extend north and south of city hall on Broad street to Cherry and Walnut streets respectively and will transform that thoroughfare into a magnificent triumphal passageway, through which the Union veterans of the civil war, reunited once more, from all parts of the country will has been decided that no hunting should be used to decorate the city hall during the encampment, but that it should be beautified by the lights alone.

Electricians employed by the commission have been engaged in making preparations for the illumination of the building, and it is expected that the electrical effects will far surpass in beauty those attained during the peace jubilee, when thousands of bulbs were arranged in streamers which covered the eaves of the roof and entwined the columns and curved above the arched entrances.

Industrial hall will be used as headquarters for campfires and as a meeting and lounging place for veterans. Concerts will be given morning and afternoon.

Seven stands of information are to be established. Each stand will be in charge of Sons of Veterans. In connection with these stands 40,000 compact books of information were also authorized. These books will be issued free and contain a map of the city, names of hotels, places of interest and places of all G. A. R. meetings of whatsoever character. There will be 48 pages in the book.

Ten thousand copies of the souvenir book will be issued, of which 7,500 are to be sold at 25 cents each, the rest to be distributed among those attending the encampment.

When the encampment is held, women will play a prominent part in the work and the festivities. The Women's Relief corps, which is auxiliary to the G. A. R., is planning a convention of its own for the same date, and the Ladies of the G. A. R. will also have a reunion. As a result of the joint occasions a large body of patriotic women will be brought together, gathered from every section of the United States.

The Ladies of the G. A. R. is an order made up entirely of the mothers, wives, daughters or sisters of soldiers. In Philadelphia alone 600 or 700 members are expected to take part in the reunion exercises, and a majority of the 5,000 women who comprise the department of Pennsylvania are expected to be present.

The headquarters for the Ladies of the G. A. R. are to be the Continental hotel, and the convention is to be held in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A., at Fifteenth and Chestnut streets, for three days, Sept. 4, 5 and 6. Election of new officers and organization business are to be transacted there. The ladies are to take part in the parade and be present at the reception in the Academy of Music. They will also give a reception of their own at the Continental on Wednesday, Sept. 6.

From Topeka will be present Boyd's Girl cadets. These young women are the daughters of veterans and are commanded by H. N. Boyd, who was a sergeant of Company L, Seventh Illinois cavalry, during the civil war. There are about 30 of them. They are all beautiful girls and will doubtless create a great sensation in the Quaker City.

At the beginning of the Spanish-American war these young ladies, all members of the best families of Kansas, were organized by Major Boyd with the purpose of giving entertainments and raising funds for the relief of sick and wounded soldiers. As the war collapsed, they conceived the idea of perpetuating their organization and attending the national gatherings that might come within their reach. They were invited to the Omaha exposition and attracted such attention as to give them a reputation all over the country.

It is said that their excellent drill and the thoroughness with which they go through the manual of arms has been very favorably commented upon. They carry Springfield rifles of a light pattern and are experts in their use.

They will go to Philadelphia in a special car and while in the city in-the larger columns will be placed at the corners of the streets; the smaller columns will intervene. The latter will contain in all 30 names of distinguished officers of the army and navy who are deceased, two names being inscribed on the face of each column.

The upper part of the shaft will be red, the lower white. A large brass ball with a burgee floating from it will surmount the shaft, and some distance below this, where the festooned bunting is caught, will be fastened a large laurel wreath. Each of the smaller columns will contain 22 electric lights.

Another feature of the encampment will be the naval display. Secretary Long has promised to send all of the noted fighting craft that can possibly be spared, and there is no doubt that the display will include the largest and most powerful fleet that has ever ridden at anchor in the Delaware.

Rear Admiral Sampson has orders to take to Philadelphia the famous white squadron and is now preparing for the trip. It is likely that all of the victorious fleet of Santiago except the Oregon and Iowa will be included, and as soon as it is definitely known what to expect arrangements for their anchorage will be made.

When the veterans reach Philadelphia, they will find that one of the most attractive features of the arrangements made for their entertainment and bewilderment will be the illumination of the public buildings. It

Steve Elkins and the Editors.

The Clarksbury (W. Va.) Mail said the other day: "We were sitting in Senator Elkins' library the other day, with our legs crossed, feeling for all the world like we owned the place. A country editor will feel anything once, and we felt good, even in those unfamiliar surroundings, as we smiled into the happy and contented face of our Uncle Steve and gazed at the broad expanse of immaculate linen which covered the generous lines of his successful and satisfactory corporation. We were there—a dozen or more raw, lean, lank and hungry country editors—in response to a cordial invitation to come up and break bread with the senator. The Scotch whiskey had already been sampled and the conversation tap was turned on."

The time has come when people in Wisconsin feel the change. Many people in this city have given voluntary endorsement of the great change they have felt after using Morrow's Kid-ne-oids.

We always like to give reference as to the merits of Morrow's Kid-ne-oids, and this time refer you to Mr. John Kohman, works at the Bain Wagon Factory and who lives at 316 Division street, Kenosha, Wis., says: "I suffered from disordered kidneys for some time past. I had a dull, heavy pain across my kidneys and it hurt my back to bend over or straighten up quickly. My urine was of a dark red color. I heard about Morrow's Kid-ne-oids and secured a package and took them according to directions, and in three days was completely relieved of kidney backache and restored my urine to its natural color. I will continue to use Kid-ne-oids and will recommend them to my fellow workmen."

material. A model of this style is shown. The jacket is what is known as a "veston" shape, fitting lightly and ornamented with narrow bands of black and white cut on the cross. The divided skirt, in which the division shows very little, is trimmed in the same manner, but the band which runs round it is rather wide. Beneath the veston jacket is a fancy cambric front for preference, with collar turned down and sailor's knot scarf of white, sky blue or black satin, sky blue for preference, or else of the same color as the trimming of the hat.

New Club at a University.
A new club has been organized among the students of the University of Pennsylvania. It is called "The Immunes," and to be eligible to membership one must have passed through a siege of typhoid fever. The present membership of the club is about a dozen, and the list shows signs of increasing. One of the distinguishing marks of the club is short hair, for without an exception those who have passed through the ordeal have emerged shorn of their football locks. Rank in the club is according to the number of "club plunges" the members were subjected to while in the hospital. The president of the club leads with a record of fourteen "plunges." Ice-water sponges have no weight at all, and one lone member who had forty ice baths and was not "plunged" at all is burdened with the name "Baillus." The password of the club is "Schuykill," and it is said that at the meetings nothing stronger than filtered water is imbibed.

TATTERED BATTLEFLAGS.

Returning Volunteers Bring Back War Worn, Shot Riddled Emblems.
Of the many relics which the returning volunteers bring back from the Philippines they prize none more highly than the tattered, shot riddled, war worn battleflags which are proudly carried in every parade.

These same battleflags tell the tale of hard campaigning more eloquently than the boys can do it themselves and better than the readiest of war correspondents. The people who are now cheering the faded, ragged emblems saw these flags when they were bright and new. The contrast is a sharp one.

Every volunteer regiment that went out carried with it at least one stand of colors presented by the people of the state from which it came. Fine silken colors they were, with lots of gold cord and fringe. The soldiers have brought back in some cases merely the remnants of these flags. Filipino bullets have bitten the silken folds as they waved over the firing line on dozens of hotly contested battlefields.

The Nebraska volunteers are particularly proud of their battleflag. There is little left of it except the field and the staff. This is not to be wondered at when you remember that it has been through fights such as the one at Quingua, where Colonel Stotsenburg and 30 out of 150 men fell in traversing a distance of less than 80 yards.

"It was as fine a flag as money could buy," said Congressman Stark of Nebraska as the flag was dipped in the review at San Francisco the other day. "But no amount of money could buy it now. We are going to take it back to Lincoln and put it in a glass case where every one can see it. I expect some of these boys will take their children there some day, and then they will be able to point out the old battleflag under which they fought on the other side of the world."

The guidons of the Utah battery have hardly enough red and gold left to distinguish them as artillery emblems. The Pennsylvania troops and all the others that have returned have brought back the same tattered flags.

PRESIDENT'S NEW HORSES.

Like most good Americans, President McKinley is fond of good horses. He is a skillful horseman himself, having learned the art on the battlefields of the civil war. But it has been years since he was in the saddle, and his weight and increasing years make it doubtful if he will ever enjoy the pleasures of a sharp gallop again.

Of late years he has become especially fond of traveling along behind a fast pair. When in Washington at most his only outings are the carriage drives which he takes regularly over the smooth boulevards of the national capital.

In the White House stables there are several good horses. To these has recently been added a finely matched pair of carriage horses. They are western bred, having been sold to the president by a Wisconsin breeder. They are handsome, clean limbed animals who look as if they could do a mile in double harness under 2:40. This fall, after the president returns from his outing on the shores of Lake Champlain, the new pair will have a chance to show what they are made of on some of the suburban roads in the vicinity of Washington.

During 1898 the number of persons, who made Alpine tours necessitating guides in the Tyrol was 13,000.

MACCABEES WILL ENTERTAIN

Pleasant Time Assured at West Side Odd Fellows' Hall Tonight.

This evening the Knights of the Maccabees and the Lady Maccabees will give a social to the members and friends. It is quite probable that dancing will also be indulged in. It is earnestly requested that all Maccabees be in attendance and go early as the tent will be called to order promptly at 7:45. Refreshments will be served and a royal good time is assured.

The Maccabees are coming rapidly to the front in Janesville. The annual dues are $2 a year. That is the cost to be a social member. The order has a sick benefit, an accident benefit and a total disability and death benefit, all under one lodge dues. This is not all; when a Maccabee reaches the age of seventy he draws his own insurance if he becomes totally disabled. Another redeeming feature is that there is no horseplay in the initiation and the degree work is beautiful and instructive.

The local tent now numbers one hundred members, in the twenty-two applicants who are awaiting to take the medical examination. This enormous growth is due largely to the untiring efforts of Deputy Supreme Commander Sir Knight Griggs, who has made his home in the Bower City for the past three months.

The regular fee to join this growing order has been $7.25, but during the balance of this month members of good moral character can join at the small cost of $1. This is a liberal reduction and is done in order to increase the membership.

Those wishing to investigate the order thoroughly can learn much to their benefit by calling upon L. P. Williams, Sir Knight Commander, or Deputy Supreme Commander Griggs, or in fact most any Sir Knight. The meetings are held every first and third Monday at West Side Odd Fellows' hall.

Results are Showing :

That Cushionet Turns do not rip, and that they will also outwear any other Shoes for walking on hard pavements.

The Reasons

For their not ripping are in our improved methods (patents applied for) of channeling the sole and the way of sewing and protection of the stitch.

They Wear Longer

Because the very heavy soles of the finest leather will not wear through quickly to the channel as in ordinary turn Shoes, and being flexible they do not grind out as welt Shoes are liable to do.

The Uppers Are Protected

And these Shoes hold their shape better on account of the heavy square close or extension edge soles.

They are made over the latest style lasts. We carry them in all sizes and widths, button and lace. We have secured exclusive sale for Janesville. There are no other Shoes like Cushionet Turns and Ease Welts for comfort giving and wearing qualities. Ask to see them.

PRESIDENT MOORE FAVORS JANESVILLE

DESIGNATED FOR ONE OF THE GOOD ROADS MEETS.

Convention Will Be Held Here October 25, Providing Sufficient Interest Is Taken—Mayor Richardson Will Call a Public Meeting—Other Notes of Interest.

Janesville has been designated as one of the places for holding a Good Roads convention this fall. Whether or not the convention will be held here, though depends largely upon the interest taken. Mayor Richardson has not been officially notified as yet by Miss Rella C. Harber, secretary of the State and Interstate Good Road and Improvement Association, but is expecting to be apprised at any time. He informs us that just as soon as he receives word he will call another public meeting, at which it is to be hoped more interest will be taken than at the last one announced, at which Miss Harber was to address our people upon the merits of this advancing movement. It is quite certain that a meeting will be called for some evening this week.

Great interest is being made manifest in this movement throughout the state, and Janesville should not lag but each and every citizen should put their shoulder to the wheel in an effort to land this convention and make it a howling success. Should we be so fortunate as to land the prize, there can be no doubt that there will be many new converts to good roads doctrines and among them will be a sufficient proportion of farmers.

Conventions in Counties.

A series of county Good Roads conventions will be conducted during October in a dozen Wisconsin cities by William H. Moore, president and organizer of the State and Interstate Good Roads association, and Miss Rella C. Harber, secretary of the association. E. G. Harrison, government expert of the office of road inquiry of the United States, will attend these conventions, building sample roads and elucidating their merits.

The places and dates of the county conventions are as follows, having been announced Saturday by President Moore of the Interstate association: Kenosha, Sept. 23; La Crosse, Oct. 9; Eau Claire, Oct. 11; Wausau, Oct. 12; Ashland, Oct. 14; Oshkosh, Oct. 15; Green Bay, Oct. 19; Manitowish, Oct. 20; Waukesha, Oct. 21; Racine, Oct. 24; Janesville, Oct. 25; Madison, Oct. 26.

There was considerable rivalry among Wisconsin towns for these meetings, which indicates a healthy sentiment on the good roads question. This fact should stimulate a deeper interest among the Bower city residents and they should consider themselves lucky that Mr. Moore had remembered them in booking these twelve conventions.

The Milwaukee Convention.

Speaking of the convention to be held in Milwaukee during state fair week, the Sentinel has the following to say:

Preparations for the Wisconsin Good Roads convention, which is to be held in Milwaukee, continue on a large scale. About 1,700 delegates have been appointed from twenty-nine counties of the state, and the indications are that the convention will be composed of from 3,000 to 5,000 delegates. Most of the delegates will be practical farmers, and the rest are public spirited business men, who favor the good roads movement.

The convention will undoubtedly be one of the most representative farmers' gatherings ever held in the state. The state board of agriculture has suggested a delegate at large from each county, and these seventy men will appoint three delegates from each town in the state. The lists are coming in to the Good Roads office in the Fabst building every day. Each delegate will receive a handsome engraved delegate's certificate, which is now being prepared.

The proceedings of the convention will not be entirely theoretical. In connection with it will be an object lesson in road making at the fair ground, which will be left there permanently. The committee of arrangements is trying to get E. G. Harrison to come here and build the road, and it is likely that he will come. The Austin & Western company of Chicago, has agreed to furnish rock crushers, screens and road builders for the work, and they and some other road machinery building companies will have an exhibit at the state fair.

The sentiment of the good roads advocate is in favor of state aid for country roads. The reason is that state aid makes it possible for cities to help pay for good highways through the state, that connect the cities.

In Illinois and Iowa.

Mr. Moore and Miss Harber have arranged a dozen conventions for Illinois and as many for Iowa during the next three months, and Mr. Harrison will attend them all, giving practical illustrations of what a good country road ought to be. At all these conventions farmers will be the delegates, and will voice their views on roads and road building.

HELD INTERESTING MURPHY MEETING

A PROFITABLE MEETING AT COLUMBIA HALL.

Blue Ribboners Gathered At Columbia Hall Yesterday—Father E. M. McGinnity Gives An Interesting Talk Along the Lines of Temperance—Others Speak—Attendance Large.

The Janesville Chapter of the Francis Murphy Temperance League held a meeting at Columbia hall yesterday afternoon.

Al. Smith, assistant secretary of the league in Janesville, said today that considering the very warm weather the meeting yesterday was an entire success. The attendance was about 300.

The meeting was called to order at 3 o'clock. Dr. James Mills, president of the league, presided and opened by introducing Father E. M. McGinnity who spoke in part as follows:

"Ladies and Gentlemen—I feel complimented by this invitation, although during the months of July and August. I have not been in the habit of doing any public speaking, even in my own church. I think it is a rest for the people, as well as for myself.

Even if you do not feel like sweating in the heat, it shows a good disposition in the cause of temperance and shows you are anxious to do what you can to carry on the good cause, which Francis Murphy has established here in Janesville,—a man who has spent at least half of a life time in the temperance cause.

Drunkenness expels reason, drowns memory, defaces beauty, demolishes strength. It is a witch to the senses, a thief to the purse and a devil to the soul. It is the beggar's companion; it makes a strong man weak and a wise man a fool.

The first effect of drunkenness is, that it expels reason and this destroys all. When God created man, He imbued him with reason and good will, and can man throw aside that which God has given him for the direction of his actions, and not be held responsible for the crimes committed while in that state?

Drunkenness leads to gradual death, and when least expected. In many instances I have witnessed, there are a few I shall never forget. In one of our neighboring towns a short time ago, a certain young man, returning from the bar room, where he had indulged too freely, so much so that he lay down on the railroad track and fell into a deep slumber from which he never fully awoke, but he awoke just as the train was passing, and seeing one of his friends, begged him for God's sake to pull off his boots. When his friends went to comply with his request, he found that both his boots and legs had been taken off. You will no doubt come to the conclusion that he was an Irishman, and so he was—therefore he was a disgrace to the land that gave him birth and to the country that gave him subsistence.

Another instance is of a man, of limited means, who, having indulged too freely in the contents of the glass, had but strength enough left in his limbs to throw himself on the railroad track, on which he laid his neck, and then and there ended his days. He was not, as in the former instance, an Irishman, but an American citizen, and of American parents. I tell these more to show to what terrible extremes drink often leads.

The drunkard has friends while his money lasts, but when his money is gone his friends are gone. The drunkard, when his money is gone, hangs around the saloon that he may be on hand for any treat that is called—like a hungry dog looking for a stray bone to be thrown out to him—and when his money is gone and he can get no drink no other way, he will beg five cents with which to buy drink, while his wife is home with her children and waiting for that drunk father, whose death would be a blessing. And when the drunkard dies this shall be his epitaph: 'Here lies a self murderer.'

Give a drunkard three things and he is happy: Whiskey, whiskey and whiskey. Dr. J. B. Whiting was the next speaker, and after giving a survey of his connection with the league and work in it, he ended by saying that he could not possibly hope to add to or improve upon Father McGinnity's address, and that he had greatly enjoyed the privileges of appearing before the league.

Miss Christiana Hawley then entertained the audience with the rendering of two beautiful solos, upon which she was highly complimented.

Harry Ashcraft was next introduced. He said that at times he had been a hard drinker, but that since the signing of the Murphy pledge, he had had no desire for liquor, whatever.

Fred Holden said that he has always been the day that he signed the pledge of the Murphy League a year ago. He stated that he had always kept his pledge and was doing all he could to promote the cause of temperance.

Attorney Wm. Bates of Beloit, was the next to address the audience. He also spoke of his own connection with the league and explained to the meeting the work which is carried on by the association at Beloit. He stated that the Line City had a membership of 250 and that they were continually signing more. Attorney Bates signed the pledge a little over a year ago.

Mr. VanAkin, of the Y. M. C. A., concluded the meeting with a short address in which he complimented the Murphy League on the work that they are doing in Janesville and elsewhere, and wished the league the greatest success.

PROGRESSIVE YEAR FOR JANESVILLE

SEVERAL COSTLY BUILDINGS
BEING ERRECTED.

Work On Y. M. C. A. Dormitory Nearing Completion—Work On the New Jail Is Being Pushed, But Is Delayed Somewhat By the Non-Arrival of Iron—Hayes Block.

The work on the new dormitory addition to the Y. M. C. A. building is progressing rapidly and will be completed by about September 15th. It will contain fifteen well aired and well lighted sleeping rooms, many of which have already been spoken for.

The plastering has nearly all been completed and the work of finishing will soon be commenced and pushed as rapidly as possible. As the building has been planned, there is not a dark spot in it, as all are outside rooms, and contain from one to three windows each. A large sky-light in the roof makes the hallways perfectly light, and a glass floor light set in the hallway in the second story carries the rays to the floor below.

Each story is provided with a lavatory, containing all of the latest improvements. The new addition will be heated by steam from the plant in the main building. The basement will probably be used as a barber shop. The sleeping rooms may be reached either directly from the street or by way of the main building. Heretofore, whenever an entertainment has been given in the assembly hall of the association building, it has been necessary for the patrons to pass through the main room of the latter to reach the former. By the construction of the new stairway the hall may be reached from the street, an improvement which will be appreciated by all.

Hayes Block a Modern Building.

The Hayes block at the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets is fast being transformed into a modern office building. The work of plastering has been completed on the top floor and the tiling in the hallways of the same floor has been placed. The carpenters are engaged now in finishing the offices and have the work nearly done.

On the third floor the lathing is finished and the work of plastering is well along. The floor of the hallway is being prepared to receive the tiling. The second floor is still in a chaotic state, as the laborers are mostly engaged in completing the work on the upper stories.

The lathing and plastering on the floor is mostly done, however, and will be finished as soon as possible.

The exterior of the building has received a couple of coats of paint and it has improved the looks of the immediate vicinity a hundred per cent. When the building is ready for occupancy the Hayes Brothers will have spent many thousands of dollars in the work of remodeling it but they will have the satisfaction of owning the most modern business block in the city.

Work on Jail Being Pushed.

The contract calls for the completion of the new Rock county jail by October 1, but it is doubtful if it will be ready much before November 1, on account of the inability of the contractors to get the necessary material for it.

The roof is being put on, but cannot be completed until the tiling and galvanized iron cornice work is received. The latter has been shipped, but as yet has not put in an appearance. When it arrives the building will be enclosed and the work of plastering can be commenced.

The partitions are all in place and the lathing has been finished. The steam, gas and water pipes are all in and work men are now engaged in placing the chutes of iron that are to support the cement floors. If the iron and steel work is not soon received the operations on the building will be at a standstill.

The sixteen, laminated, tool-proof steel cages which were ordered last, may not as yet have been shipped and there is no telling when they will be.

Edward Retheram, who is in charge of the work for contractor Peters, wrote the Pauly Jail Building and Manufacturing Co. of St. Louis, asking them to rush the cages along, and they replied that there are only two miles in the country making that particular kind of steel, and that they had not received a shipment from one of them for over two months. The other mill had sent them one carload and promised more this week when the local order would have attention.

FIGHT UNDER THE RED FLAG.

Anarchists Lift Their Banner in the Streets of Paris.

POLICE BATTLE WITH THE MOB

The Rioters Yield Only After a Desperate Combat.

CHURCH PROPERTY IS DESTROYED.

Altars, Pulpits and Pictures Torn Down and Burned by the Mob—Even the Host Desecrated—Sixty Policemen Wounded and Four or Five of the Injured May Die—Anti-Semites the Leaders in a Movement Which Threatens to Become a Revolution.

Paris, Aug. 21.—With every hour the importance of Sunday's rioting becomes more apparent. What promised at first to be only an ordinary street demonstration developed into a disturbance that verged on revolution. The sacking of St. Joseph's church was a scene recalling the days of the commune. Not a portable, inflammable or breakable article was left in the sacred building by the mob, and the destruction of the structure itself at one time seemed imminent. Oil was poured over the choir loft and the woodwork was ablaze when help came and the flames were extinguished.

The police, aided by the military, had all they could do to prevent even more serious trouble. Pitched battles in the streets were waged during the afternoon and late into the night. Several times it seemed that the officers were on the point of utter rout. Hundreds of persons were wounded and suspects by the score were placed under arrest.

Paris, Aug. 21.—Serious riots occurred here Sunday afternoon. The trouble originated in an attack made by anarchists on anti-Semites.

A thousand anarchists under Sebastian Faure assembled in the Place de la Republique and resisted the police who attempted to disperse them. The latter fought bravely, but were finally overpowered.

A police commissary and an inspector attempted to arrest some rioters who were carrying a red flag, but they were trampled upon and beaten with bludgeons. A number of shots were fired by the mob.

The inspector was mortally injured by the clubs, and the commissary was hit by a bullet, receiving a serious wound. Four other policemen were stabbed.

Notwithstanding their defeat, the police made a number of arrests, among their prisoners being Faure.

Anarchists Sack Three Churches. Subsequent to the rioting in the Place de la Republique the mob marched to the Rue St. Maur, where they stormed the churches of St. Maur and St. Joseph.

They entered the buildings and while some of them tore down the altars and pulpits, others seized the sacred pictures, holy vessels and the monstrances containing consecrated wafers, all of which were thrown into the street.

The altars and pulpits furnished wood for a bonfire, and all the seized church property was burned.

Sacrificed to Blood Poison.

Those who have never had Blood Poison can not know what a desperate condition it can produce. This terrible disease which the doctors are totally unable to cure, is communicated from one generation to another, inflicting its taint upon countless innocent ones.

Some years ago I was inoculated with poison by a nurse who infected my babe with blood taint. The little one was unequal to the struggle, and his life was yielded up to the fearful poison. For six long years I suffered untold misery. I was covered with sores and ulcers from head to foot, and no language can express my feelings of woe during those long years. I had the best medical treatment. Several physicians successively treated me, but all to no purpose. The mercury and potash seemed to add fuel to the awful flame which was devouring me. I was advised by friends who had seen wonderful cures made by S. S. S. to try Swift's Specific. We got two bottles, and I felt hope again revive in my breast—hope for health and happiness again. I improved from the start, and a complete and perfect cure was the result. S. S. S. is the only blood remedy which reaches desperate cases.

Mrs. T. W. Lee, Montgomery, Ala.

Of the many blood remedies, S. S. S. is the only one which can reach deep-seated, violent cases. It never fails to cure perfectly and permanently the most desperate cases which are beyond the reach of other remedies.

S. S. S. For The Blood

is PURELY VEGETABLE, and is the only blood remedy guaranteed to contain no mercury, potash, or other mineral. Valuable books mailed free by Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

A similar disgraceful scene was enacted at St. Nicholas' church. The mob tried to burn the churches, but in this dastardly attempt they failed.

While the rioters were storming St. Nicholas' church they were charged by police and cavalry, but they succeeded in carrying out their plan despite the efforts to disperse them.

Sacking of St. Joseph's Church.

The mob which attacked St. Joseph's church carried hatchets and long knives, which they had stolen from the counters of various shops. The aged sacristan, seeing the rioters coming, hastily closed the outer gates, but his precaution was futile.

The mob attacked the gates with hatchets and long bars of iron, and they were soon forced open. The massive oak doors were next attacked. They finally gave way and the horde burst into the church.

In the twinkling of an eye the sacred place became a scene of pillage and sacrilege. The six side altars and baptismal font were broken, pictures were rent, and the statues and other devotional objects were hurled to the floor and smashed to pieces.

The Host Trampled Under Foot.

Undeterred by the fear of sacrilege, the miscreants next attacked the high altar. The tabernacle was torn from its place. The sacred hosts were thrown to the ground and trampled upon, and the candlesticks were broken.

A figure of the Savior hanging on a great cross above the altar was made the aim for all sorts of missiles and was fractured in several places.

While raucous voices sang the "Carmagnole" the rioters seized the chairs and carried them to the small square in front of the church, where a bonfire was made of them.

Not content with the destruction that had been wrought, some of the mob returned to the sanctuary and succeeded in pulling down the crucifix, which they then threw into the flames.

Virgin's Statue Pulled Down.

Some one raised the cry that the statue of the Virgin had been forgotten. Back into the church poured the crowd and quickly they pulled down the image.

Meanwhile the sacristan, whose name is Thoreau, had been captured by the anarchists. He succeeded in escaping, however, and immediately warned the police.

A detachment of the Republican guard and many constables soon arrived, but they were compelled to fall back in order to form a line of defense, the anarchists fiercely attacking them with knives.

At length the officers began to gain the mastery. Some twenty anarchists sought refuge in a house adjacent to the church, while others re-entered the church itself.

Rioters Besieged in Belfry.

The latter intrenched themselves in the belfry, in which they were regularly besieged by the Republican guards. They fiercely defended themselves, showering down on their assailants any missile they could lay their hands upon.

They were presently overcome and twenty of them were arrested and taken to the police station amid cheers from the crowd which meanwhile had gathered along the route.

Upon being searched the prisoners were found to be carrying revolvers, loaded sticks and knives.

When the police entered the church the anarchists had just set fire to the pulpit, which they had been unable to destroy.

Church Interior a Wreck.

The interior of the church is simply a wreck. Several valuable old pictures were destroyed, and they can never be replaced.

After the mob had been driven away Abbe Lacour, the incumbent of St. Joseph's, collected the fragments of the blessed sacrament, which were scattered around the sanctuary, and replaced them in the ciborium. As he did so he was heard lamenting.

The bonfire in front of the church was extinguished by the people living in near-by houses.

Collection Boxes Plundered.

All the collection boxes were plundered. The attack occurred at 6 o'clock in the evening.

St. Joseph's church is in one of the poorest and most squalid parts of the city, but when the mob, like the old communists, brought petroleum and tried to set fire to the choir, many members of the parish tried to prevent them, but were badly mauled.

The firemen soon isolated the flames, which were crackling along the old worm-eaten choir.

Angered by Guerlin's Rebellion.

On Saturday night a number of revolutionary socialists, angered by Guerlin's continued defiance of the government, held a meeting and resolved to make a demonstration against the anti-Semites.

Copies of the resolution were circulated by the revolutionary organ, the Journal du Peuple, the populace being called upon to move against the priests and Jesuits.

It was a fine afternoon, and the demonstration attracted thousands of Sunday idlers. Soon the crowds were carried away by the barangues of the leaders, and many and frequent were the cries of "Down with Rochefort, Drumont and Guerlin."

It was at this point that the police interfered, whereupon the crowd turned upon them.

Fifty Policemen Wounded.

During the fighting that has occurred fifty police were wounded. There were fifty arrests.

A vast crowd, estimated to number 20,000 persons, assembled at night in the Boulevard de Magenta, which intersects the Rue de Chabrol, in which street is located the headquarters of the anti-Semite league.

There was a large crowd in Rue Reaumur, around the offices of the Petite Republique.

It is notable that the west end of Paris is even quieter than usual on a Sunday in August.

Mob Leaders Ran Away.

Faure, with four confederates named Dhorr, Ferriere, Perrin and Weil, funked when it was seen that blood had been shed.

The five men tried to make their escape by climbing to the top of a tram car which was going toward the Louvre.

Inspector Noriot saw them, however, and stopped the car and arrested them. They were all locked up in the Chateau d'Eau barracks.

The anti-Semite leader Guerlin and his friends, who are barricaded in the headquarters of the anti-Semite league, defying the authorities to arrest them, are running short of bread. Some of their friends on the outside attempted to smuggle supplies to them, but were prevented by the police.

More Arrests Are Expected.

There are rumors that further arrests of plotters against the government will be made, but they cannot be confirmed. It was stated that the arrest of M. Millevoye, an anti-Dreyfus leader, was imminent, and he went to Prefect of Police Lepine to ask if the report was true. The latter said that the government had no intention of arresting him.

La Patrie declares that English newspapers paid Esterhazy 25,000 francs to declare himself the author of the bordereau. This refers to Esterhazy's latest story that he wrote the bordereau by order of Sandherr, that it was then sent to the German embassy in Schwartzkoppen's absence and brought back by a French spy to furnish some "material proof" against Dreyfus.

Court-Martial Reconvenes.

Rennes, Aug. 21.—The Dreyfus court-martial reconvened this morning at the usual hour. Attorney Labori was not present. His doctors considered that it would be inadvisable for him to take part in today's proceedings, in view of the danger of a relapse.

The first witness was Col. Fabre, who deposed that he had discovered a similarity between the handwritings of the accused and that of the bordereau. He reiterated his conviction of the guilt of Dreyfus, saying, "I am sure that he wrote the bordereau."

Will Prosecute Gen. Mercier.

Paris, Aug. 21.—It is stated that Col. Schneider, Austrian military attache at Paris, will come here from Innsbruck Wednesday to prosecute Gen. Mercier. The latter produced a document in the Rennes court purporting to be a report from Schneider to his government on Dreyfus. Schneider will prosecute Mercier for forgery before the Paris court of assizes. This will be the severest blow the army has yet received. It will also smash the veracity of the anti-Dreyfus newspapers, which have been boasting that Schneider lied in the interest of the triple alliance.

Leghorn, Aug. 21.—Admiral Dewey has spent a quiet week and has entirely recovered from his illness, the penalty of his good nature in accepting so many hospitalities at Naples. He has been ashore only once since his arrival, but has received a number of visitors.

Damage by Wind and Rain.

Decorah, Iowa, Aug. 21.—A severe wind and rain storm visited this vicinity between 1 and 2 o'clock Sunday morning and did much damage in both city and country. Reports from the country are meager, but indicate that considerable damage was done.

Profit in Whisky.
The whisky sold over the bars in New York is so bad that men should voluntarily take the cold water oath. But the water is bad, also the softer drinks. So what is a tippler to do? The profit in redefy and tanglefoot is enough to make sets quit. The Fifth Avenue hotel has joined hands with the whisky trust, charging 40 cents for two drinks of a finger each. If the stuff was fifteen years old and straight some apology might be made, but 20 cents a drink for compounded or blended "wine of the country" is extortion. Prime straight rye or bourbon whisky can be bought today at $2.25 or $3 a gallon. Walving the customary adulteration of 10 or 15 per cent. by water to a proof of 80 per cent. or less for bar purposes, calculate the profit at eighty drinks to the gallon, 20 cents a drink. You have 433 1-3 per cent. on $3 whisky. It is all right, I guess. I wish the price was $100 a drink.

About one month ago my child, which is fifteen months old, had an attack of diarrhoea accompanied by vomiting. I gave it such remedies as are usually given in such cases, but as nothing gave relief, we sent for a physician and it was under his care for a week. At this time the child had been sick for about ten days and was having about twenty-five operations of the bowels every twelve hours, and we were convinced that unless it soon obtained relief it would not live. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended, and I decided to try it. I soon noticed a change for the better; by its continued use a complete cure was brought about and it is now perfectly healthy.—C. L. Boggs, Stumptown, Gilmer Co., W. Va. Blame the Navigator.

Manila, Aug. 21.—The board appointed to examine into the causes of the grounding of the United States cable ship Hooker, which recently went ashore near the mouth of Corregidor harbor, at the entrance of Manila bay, finds that the accident occurred in daylight on a reef shown on the chart, and that there were evidences of carelessness on the part of the navigator.

[LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 82,310]

"About two years ago I began to run down and soon became almost a wreck. I lost my appetite and began to lose flesh; my blood was impoverished and I had to leave our store.

"The doctors gave me a little tonic, but I steadily grew worse and consulted another doctor. He helped me in some ways, but my headaches continued, and I began to have night sweats and my rest was so disturbed that I would have hysteria and would cry and worry over business matters and my poor health.

"Finally, husband took me South, but with no benefit. This was a winter ago; no one can ever know what a year of misery I spent. Would boast after eating and was troubled with palpitation of heart and whites. Having read by happy chance of your medicine, I bought it and wrote for your advice, and before having finished the first bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the hysterics nearly stopped and I slept soundly.

"I used seven or eight bottles with such benefit that I am as healthy as I can ever remember of being. I shall never cease to sound your praises."—Mrs. B. M. BRADISH, 179 DIX AVE., DETROIT, MICH.

GATHERING OF GREAT LAWYERS.

Leading Legal Lights of America and England to Meet at Buffalo.

BY HOWARD SPENCE SINCLAIR.

Some of the most prominent lawyers in this country and representatives of the legal profession from other countries will gather in Buffalo early in September to attend the conference of the American Bar association and the International Law association.

The names and reputations of many of the leading American delegates are well known. The English representatives, however, are men who have seldom if ever crossed the ocean. At each of these conferences England is represented by some of her best lawyers. Lord Chief Justice Russell was a delegate to one of these gatherings a year or two ago.

This year the English delegation is headed by the Hon. Sir William Rann Kennedy, justice of the queen's bench division, high court of justice. He will read a paper before the American Bar association and deliver the inaugural address as chairman of the eighteenth conference of the International Law association.

Justice Kennedy is a Cambridge man and has an honorable record at the university as a medal winner and senior classic. He was called to the bar from Lincoln's Inn and, entering into active practice in Liverpool, made a specialty of maritime and commercial law. He wrote a learned work on "Law of Civil Salvage," which has been accepted as a standard treatise on a complex branch of law. In politics he was an earnest Liberal and unsuccessfully contested Birkenhead in two elections and subsequently St. Helens, but has never succeeded in entering parliament. After "taking silk" in London he was appointed to the queen's bench by Lord Herschell.

Justice Kennedy is one of the youngest men on the queen's bench, being in his fifty-fourth year and at the maturity of his powers. As a barrister he had a wide range of practice, and on the bench he has proved himself to be a sound, conservative jurist.

His scholarly tastes, which were developed at Cambridge, have enabled him to write a standard work of law and have also interested him in those abstract questions which are considered at international law conferences. He will preside with keen intelligence and stately dignity over the Buffalo conference, for he is pre-eminently a student of commercial and international law.

Accompanying Justice Kennedy will be Mr. Joseph Walton, Q. C. He was educated at the Jesuit college of Stonyhurst. A sincere Roman Catholic in religion and an uncompromising Radical in politics, he has not secured a place on the English bench to which his eminent talents as a barrister have entitled him. He practiced for several years in Liverpool, the great school of English commercial law, and is one of the leaders of the English bar, with an immense practice in London.

In his own specialty, which is maritime and company law, he is a strong advocate, with remarkable lucidity of mind, and he is one of the most genial men in the profession. He will take an important part in the discussions of the conference of international law and will also read a paper on "Legal Education" before the American Bar association.

Another delegate is Mr. Thomas Gilbert Carver, Q. C., who will take an active part in the Buffalo conference. He took high rank at St. John's college, Cambridge, and practiced law for 17 years in Liverpool before going to London, where he has won a great reputation in commercial and maritime cases.

Mr. Carver's chief interest in the conference lies in the adoption of a new code of rules in marine insurance, by which American, English and continental practice may be brought into accord and uniformity without legislation. The system which he advocates deals with points on which serious differences occur in the law and practice of maritime countries and if the proposed rules are incorporated in policies will operate by contract, like the York-Antwerp rules, to prevent conflicts in marine insurance law.

Mr. Carver took a prominent part in the last conference of the International Law association, and he will explain his new rules at both meetings to be held in Buffalo. If he be properly supported by the leading companies as well as the delegates, the insurance laws of the world may be simplified and reformed by the application of the Buffalo rules to the contracts of marine policies.

The monotonous style of vehicle of a few years ago does not find place with the up to-date buyer of today.

The demand for rigs of natty appearance increases each season. This year the swell turnouts combine comfort with style. The open runabout buggy with elliptic springs and rubber tires, or the top buggies with rubber tires, have a tendency to make the person who has no outfit a trifle envious. Handsome Buggies do not cost as much as you think for. Prices are reasonable and the rigs are the best.
